Auto & Teen Driver Product Guide

Customer-facing guide to auto coverage and adding a newly licensed teen driver. | Version 1.0 - August 2026

1. Adding a teen driver

A household member aged 15-17 with a learner's permit or new license can be added as a named driver to any SecureHome auto policy. Requirements: certified driver-education completion, a named-vehicle assignment, and a parent or guardian as primary policyholder on the same household account.

2. Good student discount

Full-time students with a GPA of 3.0 or higher qualify for up to 15% off the teen driver premium. Proof of grades is required at each renewal. The discount stacks with the multi-policy household discount but not with the telematics new-driver rebate.

3. Telematics new-driver program

Optional plug-in or app-based monitoring for the first 12 months. Safe-driving scores above 80 earn a rebate of up to 10% at renewal; scores are never used to raise the premium mid-term.

4. What is not covered

Ride-sharing for hire, track events, and vehicles not assigned to the named driver. Informal lending to non-household members should be converted to a car-sharing endorsement - ask your representative.
