Umbrella Liability Product Sheet

Excess liability protection above home and auto limits for households. | Version 1.0 - August 2026

1. What it covers

Personal liability above the underlying home ($300k minimum) and auto ($250k/$500k minimum) limits, in $1M steps up to $5M. Includes worldwide personal liability, libel/slander, and defense costs outside the limit.

2. Who should consider it

Households with teen drivers, pool or trampoline ownership, rental units, car-sharing arrangements with neighbors, or public-facing professions. A typical $1M umbrella for a two-car household costs $200-$380 per year.

3. Household definition

The umbrella follows the household: spouses, dependents in residence, and students away at school are automatically covered. Named non-resident drivers on a car-sharing endorsement are NOT covered by the household umbrella and should carry their own liability limits.

4. Claims

Umbrella claims are handled by the same adjuster as the underlying claim; no separate first notice of loss is needed.
